ADVENT PROCESSION

Sunday, Nov. 27, 7:30pm

The season of Advent provides a time of preparation for Christmas. At Christ Church this time of preparation begins with Advent Procession – a service which moves from darkness to light, from west to east, representing the hope in the coming of Christ, the Light of the world. Our service begins in darkness with an anthem in which Christ's coming is announced "from afar". As the service unfolds, the light increases during the reading of lessons and the singing of anthems and hymns until the choir stands on the chancel steps at the east end, the lights are fully lit, and the service finishes with everyone singing “O come, O come, Emmanuel”.

There will be a Senior’s lunch on WEDNESDAY November 30th, commencing with a Eucharist in the church at 11:00 AM. The August lunch was so successful in part due to the lovely Hannah Pagenkopf and our Music Director Margie Newman who will join us again with Christmas carols and hymns. Please contact the office if you require a ride.

Sunday Morning Café This Sunday!!

The Sunday morning café returns on November 20th at 9:00 am with guest speakers Souzan & Amina and Mohammad Kheir Korsha. They are Kurds from Syria who were displaced by the Civil War events that took place over the past decade. People should arrive at 8:45 to get coffee and breakfast items. The talk will commence promptly at 9:00 am. The Patronal Festival and service will follow at 10:30.

Propheying Presence: The Hebrew Prophets at Advent A pre-Advent Bible Study with Chelsea Mak

“O Come, O Come, Emmanuel.” Advent echoes with the aching affirmation: “the Christ came, the Christ comes, and the Christ will come again.” Indeed, the Revised Common Lectionary, like the hymn, offers up the words of the Hebrew prophets as the cry of the Advent Season. But who were the Hebrew prophets? And how did their words come to be tied so closely with the Christ of Christianity, Jesus of Nazareth?

As the Advent season approaches, come join Chelsea Mak on November 24 at either 10:30 AM or 7:00 PM for a conversation about the prophetic tradition in the Old Testament and its reverberations in the Christian calendar today.

Chelsea Mak is a doctoral candidate in Hebrew Bible at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. Her dissertation, “‘Therefore the Land Mourns:’ The Ecological Body in 8th Century Israelite Religion,” explores how the religious ecology of Israelite religion is revealed in the mutually constitutive relationship between the body and land as found in text and material culture. By attending to a multiplicity of narratives in dialectical encounter, those of the land and the prophetic texts of Hosea, Amos, and Micah, the project further illuminates the stakes of Israelite religious practices as situated within the political economy of the 8th

News from the Christ Church Bell Ringers

When the bells rang out on November 11 in 1918 they announced the end of World War I. The sound of bells ringing provides a soundtrack to historic moments, a call-out for celebrations and they toll in empathy for grief.

Last Friday, November 11, the bell ringers of Christ Church attached leather dampers on the clappers of each bell on one side only. Listeners could hear the familiar bright descending scale followed by their solemn echo. The tenor with its deep sound was heard striking on its own for eleven times before a two minute silence at 11am. The end of the silence was marked with one more solemn blow by the the tenor, upon which all bells started ringing again.

The bells remained muffled for Sunday service in commemoration of those who gave their lives for our freedom.

On a happy note, the Christ Church Guild of Bellringers was gifted with a new named sequence composed by young parishioner Patrick. On Sunday, November 13, Eric Bumstead (conductor) called the eight bells into "Patricks". In musical terms "Patricks" sounds: c-D-E-G-A-B-F-C (c being higher, and C lower pitch). Thank you, Patrick, for your enthusiasm and creative composition.
