Treasurer News

Tara Weiss has decided to resign from her role as Christ Church Treasurer effective year end. On behalf of Christ Church, we thank Tara for her contributions to the effectiveness of our financial management strategy, processes and communications.

This means we need a volunteer(s) to take on the position. The role does not require a CPA designation, however it does require a solid understanding of financial concepts and someone who can make informed decisions regarding finances. This includes knowledge of budgeting, saving, investing and understanding financial documents like financial statements and tax returns. We also feel arrangements could be made to make it a shared role.

If you have an interest in participating in a Church financial leadership role please let us know.

To express your interest, or questions, please contact any of the Wardens (Tim Grant, Irene Pfeiffer, Russel Barnes or Carol Madsen) or Tara.

For those of you interested in attending an upcoming Plan to Protect class, please review the below dates. RSVPs are required. For those due for recertification, you will receive an email from me letting me know that your expiration date is approaching.

New Learners: Thursday, November 19th @ 1pm. This class runs for approximately three hours.

First Communion Classes

There has been some interest in hosting First Communion classes for some of our children and youth. While all baptized persons are welcome to receive communion, we want to make sure that our families have a chance to ask questions and understand the important of communion. Once the dates are confirmed, we will publish them here. We are looking at beginning this in January.

Wish List

We have revived our Wish List! Please have a look and let me know if you have any questions. We use the Wishlist for to secure larger items for our programming. People can donate the items of purchase as a gift in kind.

Interested in Volunteering with Our Youth and Children?

We need more hands to help us keep up with our incredible growth! We need people to help with greeting children, holding babies, crafts, games and so much more. You don't have to lead the lesson if you are not comfortable and everything is provided for you. We would love to have you. Please speak to Laurel if you are interested!

Poinsettias

The Altar Guild is once again asking for donations from the congregation for poinsettias to beautify the church at Christmas. The poinsettias are $25.00 and can be memory of a loved one, or in thanksgiving. A list of tributes will be in the bulletin for Lessons and Carols and the Christmas Eve services. Please help us make the church inviting and beautiful for Christmas this year.

Evening Bible Study

Starting Nov. 5th, Rev. Deacon Daylon will begin a second Bible study for those who cannot attend the main one that happens in the mornings. This Bible study will not be a replacement of the original one and will not be connected in theme or topic. This group will meet every other week on Thursday nights @ 6:30 pm. To begin we will meet at Christ Church in the Crump room and we will be reading through Paul's letter to the Philippians, later studies will be open to suggestion. The goal of these studies is to draw closer to God and to each other through community, study, and listening both to each other and the Holy Spirit. Any and all are welcome to attend. No sign up or registration is required, but please email Daylon at dtilitzky@my.ambrose.edu so we can have an idea of numbers. You can also talk to him at church on Sunday, where it will be announced during the service.
Hope to see you there!

In 1954, the Church realizes its original vision.

I have previously described the original basement church, built in 1913/4 and the first superstructure constructed on top of it in 1921, with its footbridge to 8th St. Nothing structural happened after that until 1947, due to the depression and WW2, when the basement was extended westward towards 8th St allowing the retirement of the bridge. In 1954, major changes happened to the church. It was extended in a westerly direction over the basement extension of 1947. The roof, except for the side aisles and sanctuary, was raised by 20 feet and the beams were left open to the nave. This increased the height of the nave under the central peak, from the 20 ft space under the old ceiling to 45 feet under the new roof. In the side walls of this raised part, clerestory windows were installed, which have subsequently been adorned with stained glass. Eight brass candelabra were hung from the roof. An entry way or Narthex, separate from the nave, was created at the West end of the new church and above it a balcony with stepped-down seating. In the West wall, the beautiful stained-glass Rose Window was installed, which has subsequently been moved to the East end.

At the North-West corner of the new church, a Bell Tower, 40 feet tall, was built, to accommodate eight much sought-after English bells. This structure required a steel framework to withstand the huge lateral and vertical forces, which occur when such bells are swinging. The basement of the “South Wing” was added in a southerly direction from the level of the vestry, to which a second level was added in 1962. This was the first non-worship space other than the church basement.

The side-aisles, Chapel, Sanctuary and Vestry, were not altered from the 1921 original. This renovation fulfilled the original church concept, which the architect presented to the first vestry in 1912 and costed at $80,000. They decided this was too expensive to build all at once and elected to move towards that goal in stages. They did not expect that two World Wars and the Great Depression would slow progress so much that it would take 42 years to reach that dream. There was a major alteration, completed in 2008, called “Renewing the Welcome” but that was aimed at the non-worship space. The worship space today is much the same as it was after the 1954 renovation. The only structural changes apparent to the interior have been the extension of the balcony into the nave, when the choir was moved from the sanctuary in 1990. Additionally, there have been two moves for the organ. Firstly, the organ was moved from the vestry wall on the south side of the sanctuary to the East end when a new organ was obtained in 1990. Then the organ was moved from the East end to the West end, to follow the choir.
